

Introduction

Shawn Stratton has been a professional 'Adventurer' for over 10 years. Adventure has been defined as: "An unusual or exciting experience" and that pretty much sums up the majority of Shawn's life to date.

Growing up in St. John's Newfoundland Shawn discovered his passion for the wilderness in the Boy Scouts and his love of travel from years competing nationally in Water Polo and Triathlon. After completing his degree in Experiential Education he devoted the next 9 years of his life to adventure travel and education. During that time he did not live in one place for more than three months!

Shawn is now the owner and CEO of LiveMore Adventures, a company that promotes self-discovery through life-changing adventure travel experiences. He has also been a Senior Instructor with the National Outdoor Leadership School (NOLS) for nine years leading two week to three-month wilderness expeditions. As a result, he has traveled extensively through over 25 countries around the world including Mexico, Guatemala, Belize, India, Nepal, Ecuador, Kenya, and most recently Iceland. People have said that Shawn experiences more adventure in one month than many people do in a lifetime!

Please welcome Shawn Stratton!!
